MANILA - More Filipinos see themselves as poor, with self-rated poverty rising to its highest level in 21 years, according to the latest survey from the Social Weather Stations.

SWS said that its December 2024 survey showed that the percentage of families who saw themselves as poor reached 63 percent, up 4 points up from 59 percent in September 2024.

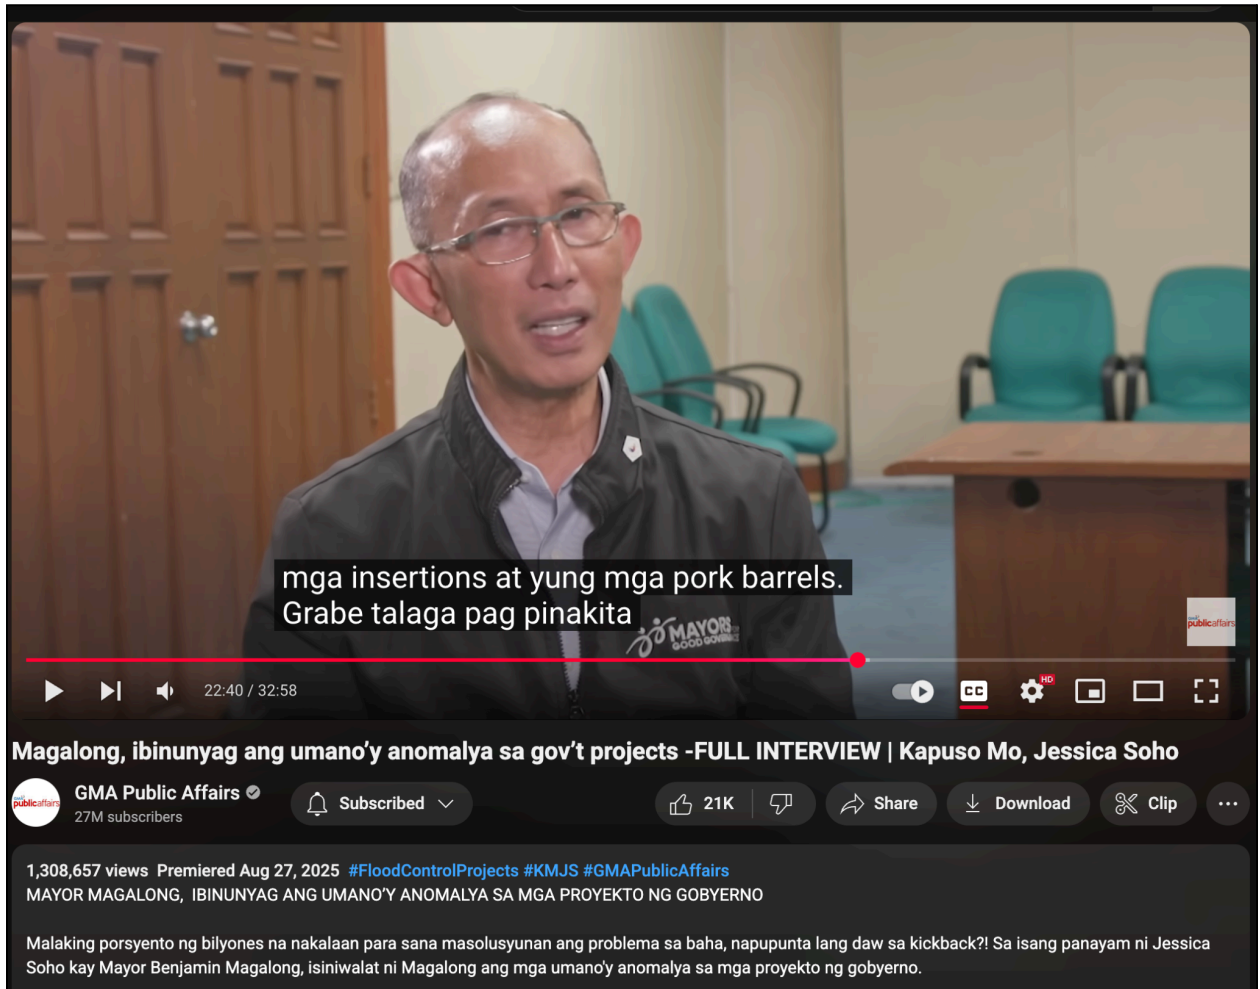

"The estimated numbers of Self-Rated Poor families were 17.4 million in December 2024 and 16.3 million in September 2024," SWS said.

The research group also said this was the highest percentage of Self-Rated Poor families in 21 years, since 64 percent in November 2003. It also noted that the number of Filipinos who see themselves as poor has been rising steadily for the third consecutive quarter since the significant 12-point rise from 46 percent in March 2024 to 58 percent in June 2024.
